

Provoking Curriculum as Relational Ecologies

Darlene St. Georges (2012). Life Lines. 30" x 30". Oil on canvas.

Life Lines

Victorious in change and refined by the movement of splendid breezes that linger among submerging shadows and light, resisting silence with hues of mint and lavender.

The wings of my heart soar with passion and promise;
I am intoxicated by the fragrance of magnolia
and the echo of sparrows in their misty playgrounds.

Here existence produces the melody of seasons,
radiating through each stage until you find yourself still,
sitting on the edge of light,
awaiting warm winds and lime grasses.
